Arnold & Winnie Palmer Foundation

Arnold and Winnie Palmer championed causes that were not just about golf, but possible because of golf.

They devoted their time away from the game to philanthropy — focused especially on young people. The Arnold & Winnie Palmer Foundation continues the Palmer tradition of impactful philanthropy by uniting the generosity of golfers and fans everywhere to make a difference.

The Palmer Foundation funds cutting-edge research and works with some of the most innovative physicians in the pediatric cancer field.

Lake Lorna Doone Park, near Orlando’s Camping World Stadium, includes the Winnie Palmer Nature Walk, which provides an escape and introduces nature education to the urban environment. The Winnie Palmer Nature Reserve in Latrobe, PA. hosts groups of school children throughout the year. Both initiatives honor Winnie Palmer's love of the natural world.

The Arnold Palmer Cup is an annual coed team tournament that features the best collegiate golfers from around the world. More than just a showcase of golf skills, the competition acknowledges and rewards character as well, in line with the principles of both its founder and the Palmer Foundation.

In all the Palmer Foundation's endeavors, the goal is to honor Arnold Palmer's legacy and help future generations live a Life Well Played.
